FASS 2009: LIVE FASS, DIE TOMORROW

February 5, 6, and 7, 2009
Humanities Theatre
University of Waterloo

Message from the President

To those who are new, welcome! To those who are returning, welcome back! To [REDACTED], [REDACTED]!

I'm very excited about this year's show. We're trying some things we've never done before, and of course some long-standing traditions. The cast and crew and entire production team have come together to create an amazing show and we can't wait to show you the fruits of our labour. We've been "Living FASS" for a month, so you can "Live FASS, Die Tomorrow."

There are hundreds of people I could thank for making this production (and the entire year of FASS events) as awesome as they are, but I only have a few words left. Every act performed at our Orientation week event, every improv game played for the kids at Canada day, every word written, prop constructed, cardboard box painted, line memorized, dance move performed, note sung, and costume donned was done with love and [REDACTED]. We hope you love it too!

Diana Chisholm, President, FASS 2009

Message from the Director

Ah, another year, another FASS. This is my 8th FASS but my first as director. It has been a pleasure and an honour to be directing this year's show. I'm very excited about the script our writers have put together, and we have an awesome cast and crew who have spent the past month putting it all together.

One of the things I have always loved about this show is that every year is a new dynamic. The lines change, the actors change, the songs change, the sets change... but the spirit of the show is always the same: the enthusiasm, the commitment, the energy... and the fun! This is what keeps drawing me back year after year.

Big thank yous go to our stage manager Stacey and our ASMs Amanda, Jessica and Joanna: they've put in a lot of work and being able to put up with me for three straight weeks is not an easy task. And as always, a big hand goes out to the cast, the band and the tech crew for all their hard work.

We have a fantastic show with a fantastic cast. Enjoy! MUWHAAAAHA!

About FASS

The FASS Theatre Company is serious about having fun - we're a live cartoon on stage! We've been entertaining UW with musical comedy since 1962. While the most fun occurs in January when over 100 cast and crew rehearse and prepare the show just in time for February, you can join us at other times to get involved.

Applications for the positions of Director, Technical Director, Chief Script Writer, Producer, and Treasurer are due in late February. To get more information on becoming a part of the show, check out our website at

<http://www.fass.uwaterloo.ca>

and be sure to attend our Annual General Meeting in March. For more information, contact us by email at info@fass.uwaterloo.ca.
